

When the war finished,
Mary had very little money left for herself.
Thousands of people
joined together to raise money to help her.

